OVER 1,300,000 PERSONS IDLE IN GREAT BRITAIN

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Mar. 22.—The Ministry of Labor gives the number of registered unemployed in Great Britain at present as more than 1,300,000. Despite these huge figures unemployment throughout this country has been for a considerable time unusually free from serious labor disputes, mainly because the big trade unions, whose funds have been seriously depleted by previous trade struggles, find themselves no longer able successfully to resist the continued fall in wages which is shown to be necessitated through the country's stagnant trade.

Recently, however, a number of disputes have developed, with threatened or active strikes in several trades, notably the miners, potteries, building and electrical workers and farm laborers. Of these the only extensive movements concern the miners and farm workers.

The output of coal from the British and Welsh coal fields has increased approximately 1,000,000 tons weekly, as compared with last year's, while the European difficulties in the Ruhr have caused a big demand, with rising prices. The miners consider they are entitled to a share of these profits, more especially as, with the exception of the agriculture laborers, they are probably the worst paid laborers in the country.

The strike of farm laborers in Norfolk is a more serious matter; the strike is spreading to Suffolk and Shropshire, and is against the attempt of the farmers to make a further reduction in the already low wages. The difficulties in the farm industry arose when the late government removed the war time subsidies and controls, which had enabled the farmers to pay high wages and at the same time abolish the wage boards, which had regulated the wages.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lankford announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Campbell to Mr. Robert Hattie White, of Danville. The marriage to take place in the early spring.

Make THE Backyard Pay

TWELVE CHICKENS AND A BACKYARD GARDEN

BY WILLIAM R. BEATTIE
Extension Horticulturist, United States Department of Agriculture.

THERE is a growing tendency among people living in towns and in the outlying sections of cities to keep a few chickens.

Twelve hens are about the right number from the standpoint of cleaning up all waste food materials from the household and 12 hens have been known to supply practically all the fresh eggs required by the family—but why the combination of 12 hens and a garden?

All nature operates according to the law of compensation and, so with the household, the hens and the garden.

In the first place, the hens consume the waste food that would otherwise go into the garbage pail and be lost and in turn lay eggs for the table. The hens produce fertilizer which if properly saved and used on the garden, enriches the soil and makes possible the production of bumper crops of vegetables.

The garden in turn often grows weeds in spite of reasonably good cultivation and the weeds together with the thinnings and the waste from the vegetables themselves, make excellent green feed for the chickens. An average hen, of one of the general purpose breeds weighing about six pounds, will produce in the neighborhood of two pounds of manure each week.

One-half of this amount will ordinarily be saved on the dropping board beneath the roost. This would be 52 pounds per hen or 525 pounds from the 12 hens during the year. By sweeping the floor of the house and the small wire enclosure in which the hens are kept an additional amount of fertilizer for the garden will be secured.

Where a little of straw is kept on the floor of the chicken house this becomes broken in time and has mixed with it considerable quantities of the droppings of the poultry.

As the poultry house is swept out and new litter supplied from time to time, the old litter can be spread upon the garden plot and worked into the soil.

Monthly manure is very concentrated and must be used intelligently or the plants may be injured. Poultry manure should be stored in a dry place under cover and no time mixed with it, as lime drives off the precious ammonia or nitrogen. Land plaster or sand may be used as an absorbent in the poultry house, but not lime.

TOMORROW: Taking the kinks out of back of backyard gardener.

FORT MONROE ELIMINATED

(By The Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., March 22.—Fort Monroe, Virginia, and Youngstown were eliminated tonight in the first round of play in the international basketball championship tournament.

Detroit displayed the most class of the night in their 7 to 29 victory over Youngstown their team work being brilliant and their shooting almost flawless.

Toronto defeated Fort Monroe 43 to 30.

The finals will be played Saturday.

NEW TREATMENT FOR PNEUMONIA

(By The Associated Press)

HOBOKEN, N. J., March 22.—Perfection of a new treatment for pneumonia whereby high frequency electric currents are introduced into the patient's body, was announced today by Dr. H. V. Droeber, a Roentgen ray specialist, attached to St. Mary's Hospital, who for ten days has been working on experiments with pneumonia patients under the observation of a group of New Jersey lung specialists.

The new treatment known as the Diathermic method was said by Dr. Droeber to be a combination of heat and electricity producing body heat and by driving blood to the affected organs.

First used during the world war, the method was introduced here ten days ago. Nine patients were subjected to the treatment and all recovered so rapidly that they will be discharged from the hospital within a few days.

One of the patients, Dr. Droeber said, was in such a weakened condition when the test was made that an oxygen was being administered to sustain life.

"ROBIN HOOD" IS PLEASING

Reginald De Koven's light opera "Robin Hood," one of the best of American compositions and one which, though familiar is so pretty and tuneful, so clean and pure and vital so refreshing, musical and historical entertainment, was sung and acted at the Majestic last night and enjoyed by a fairly large audience. Some familiar melodies and ballads are interwoven and the hitting, laughing melodies and these were sung acceptably by the company directed by Mr. Valentine, who conducted admirably. Some unusually good voices are embraced in the cast of "Robin Hood" and the comedy work with which the composition abounds was given unusually good handling. Unlike many of the company, this one has singers and its chorus was very effective. The singing was spirited and enjoyable.

Bertam Coltra as the Sheriff of Nottingham is gifted with a big rich voice and is a capable actor and his interpretation of the comedy role he essayed was of the highest. His associate in the comedy work, Clarence Zink, in the role of Guy of Gisborne, also supported him in the comedy work and gave a satisfactory interpretation of the role. Unfortunately for him, however, Mr. Zink had no opportunity to display his excellent and well trained baritone which had been heard to advantage by many at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium, where he was a guest at supper. He made a most favorable impression as a singer on that occasion and his voice was easily distinguished in some of the ensemble numbers at the opera.

Elmma Jean Arnett as Alan-A-Dele handled the masculine role effectively, but at the same time looked the part of the handsome specimen of femininity she is. A magnificent looking woman, she proved entirely capable in the handling of the role of the jealous lover. Sharply contrasted with her in physique, type and voice, was Charlotte Ingham, who made a dainty and winsome little Annabel and sang and acted satisfactorily. Her solo in the final act merited the encore it received.

Glenn Law in the title role had a good voice and his interpretation of the role was very good throughout. Bonita Cox as Maid Marian contributed to the performance by her satisfactory work. The other roles were very well handled with the well drilled and singing chorus as a background the opera went very smoothly.

MUSIC CLUBS OF STATE GATHER

(By The Associated Press)

PETERSBURG, Va., Mar. 22.—The address of the president, Mrs. M. W. Perkins was the outstanding feature of the first session of the annual convention of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs which met here this afternoon. Mrs. Perkins was hostess at a luncheon to the officers and delegates to the convention.

In her address at the opening session, Mrs. Perkins outlined the work and possibilities of the organization and urged closer co-operation of the various clubs of the state. Mrs. Albert Turrel, of Arvonia, discussed the value of country music clubs.

Paul Daniel, of Petersburg, assisted by Mrs. E. Lee Trinkle, wife of the governor, gave an organ recital at the conclusion of the afternoon program. The convention will end tomorrow afternoon with "a young artist contest" at the high school.

KIWANIS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Kiwanis Club held the largest meeting in point of attendance of the current year at the Burton Hotel last night, the meeting being featured by an unusually fine program and many visitors from neighboring cities. About one hundred members and guests were seated, and enjoyed an excellent supper, interspersed with orchestra numbers and good singing. Among the out-of-town visitors were United States Senator Morris Shepherd, of Texas; Judge Richard S. Ker, of Staunton; two members of the Reidsville, N. C. Kiwanis club, including Dr. Jett, its vice president; five future members of the proposed South Boston Kiwanis club, including Rev. J. G. Guruh, formerly of this city, as well as other visitors from Chatham, Richmond, Birmingham, and other points. Each visitor was introduced by Herbert Martin, president of the local club, and was required to stand while he received a round of applause from the diners.

Mention was made of the fact that the Danville club will soon sponsor a Kiwanis club in South Boston, and the visitors from that city were given a splendid example of the workings of the organization at last night's meeting. Among the stunts presented, was a very melancholy farewell ceremony to John H. Schofield, Jr., who shortly will take up his residence in the neighboring state of North Carolina. A coffin was borne to the center of the darkened dining room, and friends of the "departed" grouped around with lighted candles, while Horst Jim Lee, in clerical garb, delivered a farewell address in sepulchral tones, ending with the statement that the "services will be concluded at the golf links during the coming spring tournament."

After the lights were flashed on, the "departed" John Schofield responded in an amiable little talk, in which he invited the Kiwanis club to be his guests at his new country home in June, at a "chicken fry." (Great applause.)

Jim Hamlin stopped making Danville swelter long enough to present each person present with a neat little confection, a sample of goods handled by his firm. The attendance prize was presented by J. Nelson Benton, and went to John J. Speer, by reason of the fact that his birthday fell nearest to March 22 than any other man present although Chas. Bass and Mack Harris were close competitors.

The program was featured by a short address delivered by Frank Talbott, the occasion being his official visit to the Danville Kiwanis club in the capacity of Lieutenant-Governor of the Capital District of Kiwanis Clubs, to which office he was elected at the Washington Convention of last October. Mr. Talbott's remarks were unusually well selected and pertinent. He reviewed some of the activities of the local club, and defined many of the principles and ideals of Kiwanis. He stressed the human element of the relations of Kiwanians with each other and with their fellow men, and emphasized the importance of the golden rule in such dealings. His brief talk was carefully and closely attended by those present and vigorously applauded upon conclusion.

Many Kiwanians are planning to attend the International Convention to be held in Atlanta June 30. The local registration committee is composed of Hugh J. Keeling and D. P. Garvin who are receiving applications for hotel and convention registrations, which must be forwarded by April 1.

Mere Mention

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious lung trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsion of cod liver oil, which is the most effective remedy for colds and coughs.

Creomulsion is a new medicinal discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ. Of all known drugs, cod liver oil is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to cod liver oil, the element of vitamin which soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and stops the irritation while the cod liver oil goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchitis, asthma, emphysema and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for bunding up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Economics Is Topic Of Debate

(By The Associated Press) GREENSBORO, N. C., March 22.—Preliminary to the opening of the annual meeting of the State Home Economics Association here today, the association's members are listening to a series of lectures on economics.

The formal opening of the state association convention is scheduled to have as its feature an address by Miss Mary Sawyer, executive secretary of the American Home Economics Association, state supervisor of home economics education, will outline methods which she believes best for promoting home economics work, while Mrs. Roy Baldeston, professor of household arts Teachers College, Columbia University, will speak on "Some New Aspects of Household Management" at the evening session.

Most of the morning session Friday will be taken up by sectional meetings. Miss Blanche Shaffer, Miss Hope Coolidge and Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon, state home demonstration agent, acting as chairman. A commercial food exhibit will be held between noon and one o'clock.

Indian Population of U. S. Estimated to Be 340,917

WASHINGTON, March 22.—There are 371 distinct Indian tribes or remnants of Indian tribes, still in the United States, according to a tabulation completed today by the Department of the Interior.

The total Indian population is 340,917, scattered throughout the United States. The number of tribes that originally inhabited the United States before the invasion by the white man has never been accurately enumerated, although students claim that there are a much greater number than 371, the present official figure. Indian population, of course, was much larger.

At the present time 59,500 of these Indians are attending schools conducted by the government. Nineteen thousand Indian children go to boarding schools, 5,500 to day schools. In addition 6,420 Indian children are enrolled in mission schools at the various reservations. There are also 78 hospitals and sanatoriums maintained by the Department of the Interior for the Indians.

FORD BUYS COAL AND TIMBER LAND

(By The Associated Press) LEXINGTON, Ky., March 22.—It was learned today by the Lexington "Leader" from what it considers reliable sources, that Henry Ford had bought a tract of land, timber and coal covering about 125,000 acres, in eastern Kentucky. The purchase price is said to be between ten and twenty million dollars.

The tract is owned by the Peabody interests of Chicago and is situated principally in Clay and Leslie counties, with a small portion in Harlan county. The large tract is penetrated by a branch of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

It is said that Lexington will be the base headquarters when operations get under way. It could not be learned to what extent Mr. Ford will develop the property or construct independent transportation lines as a part of the development. The article continued.

CONVICTED HINDU SUES FOR LIFE IN COURT OF EQUITY

(By GENE COHN (Special to The Bee)) SAN FRANCISCO, March 22.—What will be the future of capital punishment cases now that life has been placed on a par with death?

This question soon will be echoing about the nation as the result of a legal decision that has no parallel in world history.

Stripper of technical wording, it has been decided by Judge James M. Trout that:

ONE: A man's life is his most important possession.

TWO: That a man can go into a court of equity to fight for his life or his property or some other possession, so why can he not fight for life, his most important possession, in a court of equity?

THREE: If this attitude is taken, a man sentenced to die may be saved by means of the injunction invoked as in other property actions.

And by this decision the gallows at San Quentin prison were cheated of the neck of Ullah Mohammed, a Hindu.

All criminal courts had been appealed to. It had been shown that Ullah Mohammed had been convicted of murder. The governor was appealed to. He refused a reprieve. But a few days remained before the noose would choke an innocent man.

Then Attorney William Grant decided upon an eleven-hour appeal in a court of equity to have the death sentence set aside on the ground of fraudulent testimony.

This was the story that developed. Mohammed, with several companions, had been attending a feast at which one Ali Akbar, an Afghan was slain.

Mohammed knew nothing of the English language. The two men who committed the crime did.

The convicted Mohammed they all would get into trouble and that, because they could speak English, he had best let them handle the affair.

They allowed Mohammed to be arrested. They retained a lawyer for him and told the attorney Mohammed was guilty, claiming that he had been convicted of murder and was convicted without knowing what it had all been about. Meanwhile the slayers had jumped out.

It seemed nothing could be done. "Until the man's property rights" to his life was argued.

Next in legal history has a judge saved a life in an equity court. And now that the precedent is established the same point is expected to be raised in a dozen different ways for men who face the death penalty.

JUDGE JAMES M. TROUT (ABOVE) AND ULLAH MOHAMMED (BELOW).

Both Tobacco Measures Are Sweeping Adopted By House

RICHMOND, Mar. 21.—The house of delegates of the Virginia general assembly yesterday afternoon, passed two bills regulating the sale of leaf tobacco in the State, the bill regulating the Virginia Highway Contractors Association and fifteen measures of a local character. A bill amending the co-operative marketing act was passed by a vote of 51 to 1, and the measure requiring the sale of leaf tobacco under the name of its true owners was passed 60 to 6. The bill regulating the Highway Contractors Association, provides that all business of the association be open to inspection by the State and that the members make an affidavit that any bids they may submit for road work are not the result of collusion. It was passed by a vote of 44 to 30.

Judge Severe On Liquor Convictions

CLEVELAND, Va., March 21.—Carrying out a threat made several hours before—that the law's limit would be meted out to all liquor law violators—found guilty after entering pleas of not guilty. Federal Judge John A. Killis of Toledo, sitting here today, sentenced Joseph Blener of Pittsburgh, to two years in the Atlanta penitentiary, fined him the maximum of $10,000 and in addition ordered to pay all the court costs.

Blener was indicted with six others, June 3, 1921, on charge of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law. All were convicted.

Blener asserted he did not take the witness stand because he did not have time to prepare his case properly. "I'm not interested in your alibis and I'm not interested in any plea for mercy you make. You caused unnecessary expense of a second indictment before you were finally brought here to stand trial."

"The other six indicted with you got off with two years in prison and fines of $5,000. I'll give you the maximum—two years and $10,000, and make you pay the court costs to compensate the government for the expense you put us to."

—Dr. H. Taylor Hawkins, formerly of this city, but now a physician and pharmacist of Clover, Va., was in the city yesterday on professional business and incidentally renewed many acquaintances of eight or ten years ago.

Milton Nobles Goes To The Chair Friday

RALEIGH, March 21.—Milton Nobles, of Columbus, will be electrocuted Friday morning if no one intervenes and this seems improbable. Quite a little interest is being shown here and all over the State in the matter of Jerry Dalton, another prisoner on death row, but no one seems especially interested in Nobles, who will die Friday for the murder of his cousin, Henry Nobles.

There has been no appeal of any sort, Nobles accepting the sentence in superior court without any apparent inclination to fight the matter. "They have accused me of killing Henry Nobles," he said today, "but I didn't kill anybody." Conviction followed a murder in which a family feud is thought to have been the basis. Sentiment in Columbus seems to be overwhelmingly against Nobles.

—C. L. Bell, of Baltimore, is visiting at the home of J. S. Harvey, West Main street.

Shave With Cuticura Soap The New Way Without Mug

ARE YOU TIRED DULL, LANGUID?

DOES your head ache, are you tired when you get up, is it hard to arouse enough ambition to do even the smallest tasks?

That's a sign of sluggish, impure blood. That's a warning to get a bottle of Gude's Pepto-Mangan and purify your blood and build up new strength and energy. For over 30 years Gude's has been the favorite tonic and blood enricher of many thousands of people. Your druggist has it, in both liquid and tablet form.

LET Company Come

Have hot biscuits. They are almost made in a minute, and if you like you can sift a quantity of flour, salt and baking powder at one time, rub your shortening into it and then all you have to do at meal time is to mix the dough and bake it. Hot biscuits are always good when made with Rumford.

RUMFORD THE WHOLESOME BAKING POWDER

Kellogg's Bran is ALL BRAN—that's why it relieves constipation!

Half-way measures mean nothing to the man, woman or child whose very existence is threatened by the habitual clogging of the elimination channels. Foods with only part bran can never clean and sweep the intestines in the nature-way as does Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled.

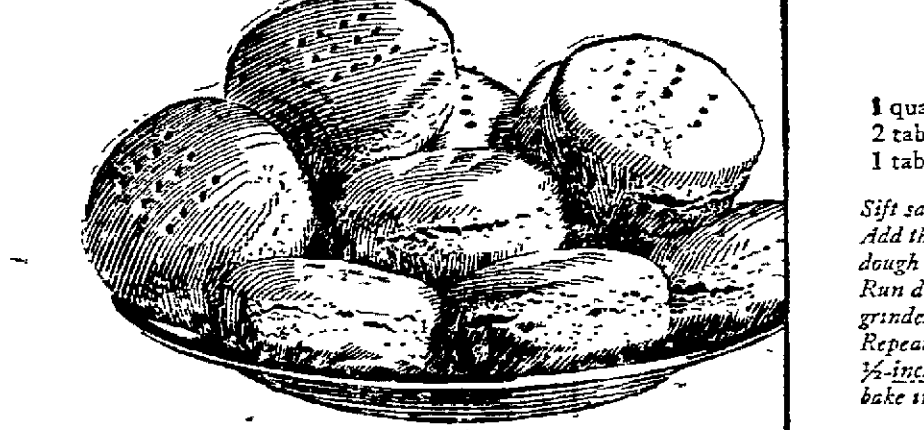

And, Kellogg's Bran is as delicious in flavor as it is positive in its action. If it is eaten regularly—two table-spoonfuls daily, in chronic cases, with each meal—it will permanently relieve the most aggravated case.

Your health will be greatly improved within a brief period if you will eat this delicious Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, will do for you and for your loved ones. There is no time to be lost in getting the relief that Kellogg's Bran assures.

Kellogg's Bran is delightful as a cereal, sprinkled over any hot or cold cereal, or served in countless appetizing ways in baking and cooking. It makes the best sort of pancakes, muffins, raisin bread, macaroons, etc., you ever ate. And, each mouthful contributes to health! Kellogg's Bran works for you all the time! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran for constipation.

A simply complexion or an offensive breath can both be overcome by the regular use of Kellogg's Bran, which is sold by grocers everywhere.

Drawing from photograph of beaten biscuits made with Libby's Milk by Miss Norma Phelps, Lynchburg, Va.

How Miss Phelps makes those wonderful beaten biscuits

Everybody in Lynchburg, Virginia, so it seems, knows that Miss Norma Phelps makes wonderful beaten biscuits.

From friends to friends the news of their goodness has spread, until now—well in one week recently she had to bake 67 dozen to meet insistent requests.

But never, says Miss Phelps, have her biscuits been quite so rich and sweet as now. She has learned the value of Libby's Milk.

That this milk does have unusual enriching qualities is known to thousands of other good cooks. You will notice it the very first time you try Libby's Milk.

7½ teaspoons of butter fat in every can

It enriches foods, improves their flavor, for the same reason that cream and butter do; it is rich in butter fat.

Beaten Biscuits (Miss Phelps' recipe)

1 quart flour 1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lard 1 cup Libby's Milk
1 tablespoon butter 1 cup water

Sift salt into flour then rub in butter and lard. Add the milk, a little at a time, stirring till dough is very stiff (as stiff as can be made). Run dough, handful at a time, through a meat grinder, then knead with hands on a board. Repeat 10 or 12 times. Roll to a little more than ¼-inch thick, cut with small biscuit cutter and bake in moderate oven 30 minutes.

There are, in fact, 7½ teaspoons of pure butter fat in every 16 oz. can of Libby's Milk!

Of course it isn't ordinary canned milk, nor milk from ordinary cows.

Libby's Milk comes from selected herds in the finest dairy sections of the country—those places you've heard about, where meadow lands abound and where men specialize in raising cows that give exceptionally rich milk.

Our condenseries are in the heart of these favored dairy sections. Every day this finest of milk is brought to us, and we evaporate more than half the moisture from it, making it double rich.

We add nothing to it; take away none of its food values. But we seal it in air-tight cans and sterilize it so we can bring it safely to you who live, perhaps, many hundreds of miles away.

Have richer dishes—tonight

Get a can of this richer milk from your grocer today. Try it in Miss Phelps' biscuit recipe.

Or better yet, try it first in one of your own favorite recipes—in a soup for instance, a sauce or gravy or pudding. See what wholly new richness it gives. See how it improves the flavor.

Once you have used Libby's Milk you'll surely want it for all your cooking.

Good Health

"My present health is very good," writes Mrs. E. H. Weidel, of Dayton, Texas, whose picture is printed above.

I have been taking CARDUI for two years, off and on. When I feel tired out, after a day's work, and weak and run-down, I always get CARDUI, and in a few days I feel well as ever again. I have never found anything as good for womanly troubles as Cardui.

"I had an easy time and believe I owe it to Cardui, for I took it before my first baby was born and had an easy time, and took it before this one, also. I will always keep a bottle of Cardui in my medicine chest."

Female ailments cause many women much suffering. When neglected, they often lead to more serious troubles, such as nervousness, general debility, premature old age and similar results of worn-out health.

Never neglect your health, for you will surely regret it. Do not put off necessary treatment because of the slight expense involved in buying a bottle of CARDUI. It is wise to be thrifty in many ways, but not in medicine—when you need it. Good health is priceless and cannot be bought, once it is gone.

If your symptoms indicate the need of a female tonic—take Cardui. It has helped thousands. When buying, please look at the label. Don't buy any medicine that may be offered. Get CARDUI, the Women's Tonic. One of its principal ingredients has been recommended by the medical profession, for female trouble, for over 300 years. Its success in relieving these complaints, in many thousands of cases, is proof of its genuine medicinal value.

Would You Be Beautiful?

Beauty has been the quest of all ages. Thousands of lovely women attribute their beauty to the use of Nadine Face Powder. The cheeks have just a tint of color—the skin can only be equalled by the soft texture of a rose petal.

Nadine will keep the roses in your cheeks. It will adhere and protect the skin from the sun, wind and dust. It contains no white lead or other ingredient to harm the skin or the eyes. It's the same pure powder, popular for so many years—only the box and fragrance have been improved.

Money refunded if you are not pleased. At your toilet counter 50c. Miniature box sample by mail 4c. Tints, White, Flesh, Pink, Tan, etc.

Campaign; Strong As An Advertiser

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
 WILLIAMSON, Mar. 22.—A. D. Lasker, Chairman of the Shipping Board, and admittedly one of the greatest of political salesmen, was disclosed here today as the most likely choice for the more or less difficult job of leading the people a second term of President Harding.

To date, all the talk of the Capital dopesters has been monopolized by Will Hays, Charles D. Hilles, and Attorney-General Clegg, when the subject of the probable leadership of the Republican national campaign committee in 1924 has been brought up; but in spite of this, the first mention of Lasker's name was given serious attention by the best-informed forecasters. And the more one ponders the matter, the more convincing are the reasons for crediting the report.

In the first place, the man who has guided the Shipping Board has fully proven his right to the title of presagist par excellence. No one in the public eye can quite equal Mr. Lasker's ability in reaching a favorable public sentiment for whatever he wishes to be favored. Trained as an advertising man and promotion expert, his activities since he has held his present position alone more to cement public opinion in favor of the ship subsidy than any other man in the administration, and the failure of that measure can in no way be attributed to him.

It was in the matter of the Ship Subsidy, too, that Mr. Lasker demonstrated most clearly the strength of his hold on the President. Some Republicans even went so far as to say that the chief executive had allowed himself to be hypnotized by Lasker, and severely criticized his open and extravagant subservience to the Shipping Board chairman.

Clearly there can be no doubt of the great admiration which Mr. Harding has for Mr. Lasker. Witness the daily news reports of the foursofmes played in the soft and sunny clime of Florida by the President and his chosen intimates—Mr. Lasker, and Mr. Daugherty, and Mr. McLean. What better environment could be found for this administrative triumvirate to lay their plans for the coming presidential campaign—such as by Mr. Daugherty's own admission, the bearer of the Republican standard will be none other than Mr. Harding.

Will Hays has not to take off his hat to anyone when it comes to publicity; but the recent has made of the Arbuckle case by the Czar of the movies is admitted to have alienated a large and powerful section of the country from him, and for this reason it seems reasonable to believe that the G. O. P. will take no chances on losing any support by picking him as sponsor for their presidential aspirant.

The other most prominently mentioned possibility for the campaign management in 1924, Mr. Hilles, has had a good deal to make out for him by those who profess to know what is going on in the minds of the administration; but many others, who should be equally well informed, are so convinced of their own superior discovery of Mr. Lasker as the man for the job that they refuse to admit any other possibilities.

PRES. HARDING COMMANDEERS FORD IN TOWN

(By The Associated Press).
 DAYTON, Pa., March 22.—The Cincinnati newspaper editors who have been commenting on the democracy of President Harding's vacation and the cordial manner with which he shakes hands with all those who turn out to meet him at the various stopping places were given a new example of the presidential democracy today during a stop at Tinsville.

The Pioneer, the houseboat carrying the President and his party, docked at Tinsville, to take on gasoline and water. Having cruised for several hours and having an uninterrupted cruise of several hours more, the party, almost the entire day was spent on the boat, the President, accompanied only by Dick Jarvis of the secret service detail, left the Pioneer for a walk.

He walked to the end of the long pier at which the Pioneer had stopped and then started a sight seeing tour of a little town, which has only a thousand or so inhabitants. It was warm and evidently the President decided he could use the tour more pleasantly in an automobile. So the nearest car that appeared like it might be hired was hailed. It happened to be a bright shiny Ford driven by a young man wearing khaki trousers and a flannel shirt and no hat, but that made no difference to Mr. Harding, who climbed in the back seat with Jarvis and toured the town.

No more Rheumatism

Suffering has gone from your face, mother!

S. S. S. is the Great Builder of Red Blood-Cells and Rheumatism Must Go Just Try It!

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it. It's sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glow again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. Look at my hands and the back of the neck and smiling face. I don't have a head ache any more. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can think, S. S. S. is the best. To me it was a true word of joy and liberty. Mothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that rheumatism is a thing that is gone from you forever. It is not so. It is waiting and here for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of pure red blood cells the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Rheumatism disappears as blood strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-builder. Blood-builder, system, very, nervous, nerve, in decay. It stops skin eruptions, too, pimples, blackheads, acne, skin, etc., etc. It builds up your nerves, tired, worn-out, nervous, in all its complications, makes the flesh firm. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical."

FRIDAY
 Devotion to Christ

"She hath done what she could."

Mark 14:8.

Read Mark 14:1-11.

The ideal home-maker is the ideal philanthropist. She dresses her family with skill and she reaches forth to both hands to the great world which "needs" her.

MEDITATION: See how Jesus

evaluates sentiment! The devotion of Mary that broke the alabaster box is one with woman's God-given impulses which begot mother love and all the family of altruistic passions which elevate the race. We may well reverence it!

HYMN:
 In simple trust like them who heard,
 Beside the Syrian sea,
 The gracious calling of the Lord,
 Let us, like them, give out a word,
 Rise up and follow thee.

PRAYER: O heavenly Father,
 I thank thee for thy blessed Spirit which is in all the members of this household.
 Make each of us an instrument in thy hands for good. Purify our hearts, strengthen our minds and bodies, fill us with mutual love. Let no pride, no self-conceit, no rivalry, no dispute, ever spring up among us.
 Make us earnest and true, wise and prudent, giving help and cause for praise and thanksgiving to thy Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1933.

HYMN:

You have seen hypnotists on the stage. Scientists are giving them increasing attention. The other day in England, Dr. S. R. Wilson appeared before a society for psychical research and performed this interesting experiment:

Wilson hypnotized a man, then told him that the carpet was a magic one and would carry him to King Tut's tomb in Egypt. The man under the hypnotic spell was highly pleased. He swayed back and forth as though the imaginary trip through the air were rough.

When told that the carpet had come to earth, the man stepped out, scooped up imaginary sand and exclaimed with delight. Then he went through all the motions of thoroughly inspecting Tut's tomb.

His imaginary trip probably was as good as the real thing, except that he had no recollection of it when roused from the hypnotic state.

Hypnotism, far from being a force

used only occasionally on the stage and in scientific investigations, is employed daily in the lives of all of us.

The attraction that generates love is hypnotic.

The city salesman who can induce people to buy what they really neither need nor want is an out-and-out hypnotist.

Political leaders who attract large followings have the hypnotic power highly developed in them.

The Cane craze emphasized that most of us can hypnotize ourselves. Call it power of imagination if you want to,

 but in the first analysis it is old-fashioned self-hypnosis.

You know people who have an obsession—"buns" on one subject—usually something they think is a cure-all or the king-pin of evils.

Hypnotic condition.

For that matter, we have ourselves hypnotized when we day-dream. Or when we read a book or watch a movie and imagine that we are the admirable characters portrayed.

All mass movements of the public involve an element of hypnotism. It's one of the great mysteries, is hypnotism. No one can explain it except in generalities.

AUTO DEALERS

WILL TEST LAW

RICHMOND, Va., March 22.—The

Virginia Automobile Association announces that it is in the fight to test
 the validity of the gasoline tax law, just passed by the legislature and which is effective July 1, when the tax begins, and that it will be used for the county roads. The automobiles say the law is unconstitutional, and for that reason they will fight it through all the courts to establish that fact. That other state have the same law does not affect the determination of the association's fight to the last.

Scoop's Column

DRAKES BRANCH, March 20.—
 (Grapevine Wireless.)—It is a damp cold day indeed when Danville cannot spring some sort of sensation.
 There are 13 or 14
 Danvillians scattered over the country, but only one DANVILLE, VIRGINIA!
 The town slogan: "DAN-VILLE DOES THINGS."
 It is a live, vibrating fact,
 and truly reflects the feelings of a restless and ambitious people. The town is known far and wide, and favorably known as the garden spot of the famous Piedmont region.
 Its only rival, while we do not admit, is Danville, Illinois,
 the home of the oldest living congressman. And "Uncle Joe" Cannon is a native of North Carolina.

We have been all "hot-up" over the proposed increase in taxes to provide better school facilities. The legislature has been stormed and berated by telegrams and committees until the Danville business overshadowed every other matter before that august assembly. The trouble was started by a couple of paid lobbyists, said to represent a hand full of tight-wads who invariably bob up when anybody starts anything to build up the town—and it is thought some small-fry politicians had a finger in the pie.

After the storm blew over it was discovered that the City Fathers already had authority to juggle the tax rates. Another case of love's labor lost, and ankle grease gone to waste.
 Another wild goose chase after the bird was already hanging in the pantry! All we've got to do now is to on the school bonds when the time comes. Ain't it wonderful?

This excitement was quickly followed by the proposition to build a Mormon Temple in our midst. All of the churches and ladies aid societies are in arms and the fight is on.
 What the K. K. K. is going to do about it remains a mystery, for they move in mysterious ways their objects to perform. Some people think Danville needs the Mormons, and we venture to say that a petition carried up and down Main street would be rapidly signed.

Places that most anybody will sign any old petition poked at them. It is a bad habit that we don't seem to outgrow.

As for the polygamy doctrine, that is mostly bunk. The scheme has been outlined. Any man with the nerve to keep up with two or three wives at the same time is headed straight for Stoughton, he needs no boost along the unhappy way.

Just leave it to the K. K. K. and all will be well.

—oo—

The Mormons are coming!

Oh, We Had Just Overlooked It!

(From our tailor this morning)

Feb. 20, 1932.

Dear Mr. Wright:

Won't you please be good enough to let us know why you haven't dropped in to settle your account, as promised several weeks ago.

—oo—

Always glad to let you know anything my good friend. Now that you know, I trust you won't bother me again.

—oo—

Unpremeditated Thoughts.

It is easier to make a virtue of necessity than it is to make a necessity of virtue.

Advice is premature experience.

Beware of the woman who is in her element when surrounded by temptation.

Some women have the happy knack of being so disagreeable that men keep away from them.

A reformer is one who tries to chase history up a back alley when he thinks it is going to repeat itself.

Many who are old enough to know wish they were young enough to have to find out.

L. R. STEEL DIES WHILE ON TRAIN

(By The Associated Press)

TOLEDO, O., Mar. 22.—L. R. Steel, 62, a national known business man, died from natural causes on a New York Central train entering the Union Depot yards here early this morning, according to Coroner Charles J. Hensler, who conducted a post mortem examination.

Death was caused by a ruptured blood vessel in the brain, Coroner Hensler found.

Mr. Steel's body was prepared for burial this afternoon and dispatched to his home in Buffalo, N. Y.

His death came while he was enroute to Chicago after conferences with Pittsburgh and Cleveland financiers in an effort to raise $1,000,000, which his associates said he believed would prevent his firm from going into receivership.

His efforts to raise the money were futile, it was said, and, giving up in despair, Mr. Steel started for Chicago to rest.

DEBATE AT HIGH SCHOOL TODAY

The elimination debate of the Danville High School, preliminary to the State Interscholastic contest, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the High School auditorium. The public is invited.

Three girls and one boy will take part in the debate and from this number two are to be selected to represent the High School at the State debate.

PASSING OF MRS. ADAMS

Mrs. M. M. Adams died at her home, Keeling, Va., March 18, in her eighty-second year. Mrs. Adams had been in failing health for several months. She suffered a severe case of influenza followed by a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered.

Interment was made Tuesday afternoon at her home in the family burying ground. Services conducted by her pastor, Rev. E. L. Hardcastle. Deceased was before her marriage Miss Mildred Barbour, the daughter of Mary L. and David S. Barbour, of Riceville, Va. On December 22, 1841 she was married to James M. Adams who preceded her in the same March 23, 1900. Mrs. Adams was educated at Averett College in its early history. Prof. Berryman being the president of the institution at that time. Deceased was widely known and generally loved. Since girlhood she had been a faithful member of the Baptist church. Her example of faith, purity of soul and gentleness is a legacy to her loved ones.

The three surviving sons are: J. T. Adams, Brookneal, Va.; M. V. Adams, Ringgold, Va.; and W. N. Adams, Charlotte, N. C. Six daughters also survive: Mrs. Jno. F. McLaughlin, Mrs. C. A. Strickland, Mrs. W. H. Alderson, Mrs. R. C. Alderson, all of Keeling, Va.; and Miss Pattie Adams, Charlotte, N. C.

The remains were tenderly borne to the grave by her grandsons and the numerous and beautiful floral offerings carried by the granddaughters.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

Misses Blair, McLaughlin, and Milam, teachers of Laurel Grove school, delightfully entertained a few of their friends on Tuesday evening from 8 to 12.

After the guests were welcomed each couple were presented with a puzzle. Upon solving the puzzle they found it to be a very unique announcement of the engagement of Miss Mary Bennett of Ringgold, to Emmett Haynes of Charlottesville, the marriage to take place in the late spring.

Many interesting contests were engaged in during the evening.

Guests partook of the delicious fruit punch, the punch bowl being presided over by Miss Nannie Milam. Many toasts were offered to the blushing bride-to-be.

As the evening drew to a close a tasty salad course was served, after which the guest of honor, who presented with two linen guest towels.

The negro was tried yesterday and sentenced to four years in the pen for larceny of the machine.

Severs Chains With Teeth, Bends Iron Rods in Circle

(Special to The Bee.)

LONDON, March 22.—That a Jewish athlete named Breitbart, 34, six feet three inches in height and weighing 210 pounds, can bite through steel is vouched for by a medical correspondent of the Lancet.

Breitbart's performances astounded a committee of physicians, smiths and residents of athletic corporations, who saw him sever with his teeth several iron and steel chains one-fifth of an inch thick; bend into a circle iron rods half an inch square, using his mouth as a fulcrum; bend over his head a rail four inches thick by two and a half inches.

The correspondent says: "The accomplishment of these tasks by means of extraordinary muscular power coupled with excellent scientific training and muscular energy."

DEFENSE EVIDENCE SUBMITTED

(By The Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 22.—Submission of evidence for the defense got under way in federal court here today after Judge Ferdinand A. Geiger refused to grant a motion to discharge 62 of the 63 defendants in the Lake County liquor conspiracy case. The prosecution completed submission of testimony early in the day.

Cocoanut Oil Makes
A Splendid Shampoo

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely destroy your hair if you don't.
 Dandruff means faded, brittle, scraggly hair that finally dies—new hair will not grow—then you are bald and nothing can help you.
 The sure way to abolish dandruff is to use Parisian Sage. It is guaranteed to banish all dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and stimulate new hair to grow. Parisian Sage is a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—an antiseptic liquid neither sticky or greasy easy to use, and daintily perfumed. If you want beautiful, soft, thick, lustrous hair and lots of it, use Parisian Sage. Don't delay—begin tonight—a little attention now insures abundant hair for years to come.

PRISON FARM PROBLEMS ARE TALKED ABOUT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—Production and distribution problems affecting prison farms and textile plants were discussed in detail at group meetings today of prison officials and others assembled here for a conference by the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor. Prison manufacture of automobile parts also was considered by another section, the difficulties of their manufacture in penal institutions being particularly emphasized.
 The advantages of standardized grades of agricultural products were stressed by Department of Agriculture experts and prison farm officials, both from the standpoint of profit from sales of surplus and with respect to purchase of supplies for the states' institutions.
 Penal farms that show a profit, it was brought out, are devoted chiefly to staples, while live stock raising at such institutions is advisable in most cases only to supply meat and dairy products for "home" consumption.
 With reference to manufacture of textiles in prisons, the need of standardized equipment and output was pointed out by a number of speakers. It was the consensus that the volume of surplus prison products would always be so small in ratio to the national total that they could not affect commercial markets.

HE'S REAL-LIFE HERMIT

FREDERICK ASHTON AND HIS "HOME."

ten. With the aid of a few chickens and a barren-looking patch of ground, the white-haired man eked out an existence through the summer and fall.

But when the Minnesota winter came, the aged man, worn with privation, slipped on the "mud floor" of his shack and lay unconscious until he was removed to an infirmary.

When consciousness returned, he came back. He found neighbors had removed his scanty possessions. He sued for their recovery, presenting a moving plea for the right to live on his "cove."

He won the battle. His chattels were restored to him. He returned to his home, happy to be independent again.

Now Ashton stands with dignity in the door of his hovel and regrets he cannot ask his newspaper representatives inside. His accents are the inflections of a cultivated Englishman, his bearing distinguished.

"As a young man," Ashton confessed, "I was foolish enough to love a girl whom my family considered socially beneath me. This was in England."

"One morning I came down to breakfast and said, 'Father, I am going to marry Jenny.' He said I could pack my trunk and get out. I did."

Did Ashton marry Jenny? The aged man shakes his head and will say, no more about a romance that has been buried—who knows for how many years?

(Special to The Bee.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., March 23.—This is the true story of a real-life hermit.

His hero is the same picturesque hero one meets in fiction—a man whose soul has been seized by a hapless love affair and who has resolved to live alone, shunning his human fellows and living in the past.

But this hero is still more—he is a man whose love of home is so great that he has fought the city of St. Paul to a standstill for the right to live in a floorless, mud-covered hut he built with his own hands.

St. Paul's hermit is Frederick Ashton.

Clean Up Poison
Soaked Kidneys
Advise Dr. Carey

Thousands Die Every Year
Because They Allow Poisonous Deposits to Accumulate in Kidneys.

Don't flush your kidneys with harsh man-shits, says Dr. Carey, they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them tough.

For 40 years I have been using my Prescription No. 777 for kidney and bladder sickness and now that I have retired from active practice I have made arrangements with leading druggists to dispense this wonderful prescription at a moderate price.

Beware of kidney disease—thousands die of it every year who ought to be enjoying the blessings of life and health.

At you have specks floating before the eyes, puffs under eyes, clammy feet or moist palms, backache or sideache you ought to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Prescription No. 777 right away.

It has conquered thousands of cases of kidney and bladder diseases and is the medicine you can always depend upon.

IMPORTANT—Dr. Daniel G. Carey has been a practicing physician for many years and his great Prescription No. 777, known for years as "Marsh-root," has cured thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. It is not a patent medicine and is only sold through drug stores in order to accommodate his patients.—adv.

Tobacco Stable
Trade Currency

BY GEORGE M. MANNING
 (Special to The Register)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 22.—Tobacco, preferably Virginia or Kentucky tobacco, is the one stable currency in the West African trade. Ever since the first trading vessels began touching the coasts of the dark continent, the fragrant weed has been the only commodity for which the guileless natives have been always ready to exchange any or all of their own possessions.

The dusky aborigines have developed a fine discrimination in their choice of particular kinds of leaf, too, if we are to take the word of Consul W. J. Yealy, at Dakar, Senegal, in a report to the Department of Commerce he says, "Virginia and Kentucky tobaccos are in greatest demand, requirements as to length, color, and number of leaves to the bunch depending upon the section of the country. If a native is accustomed to a certain type he is unwilling to accept any other."

There are no manufacturers of tobacco in British or French West Africa, and the entire consumption consists of manufactured leaf.

Owing to the large imports of leaf tobacco during 1919 and 1920, stocks had accumulated in warehouses, and West African traders were unable to dispose of this excess except at a great loss, consequently many carried stocks over to 1921. This accounts for the marked decrease in imports during that year.

For the years 1918, 1919, 1920 and 1921, imports of leaf tobacco into British and French West Africa have been, respectively, 8,382,739; 20,924,071; 17,473,198; and 6,721,887 pounds lead in the amount of tobacco consumed.

A considerable increase in trade was shown in 1922 over 1921, and prospects are that further improvement will be evidenced during 1923. The exports from the United States to West Africa last year were 14,620,408 pounds.

Though there are no prospects of any considerable increase in imports of leaf tobacco, it is believed that they will be gradual as the trade expands.

FOSTER MUST FACE
JURY'S DECISION
IN CASE IN COURT

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Mar. 22.—William Z. Foster, charged with violating Michigan's criminal syndicalism law by assembling with the national Communist convention last August, must face a jury's decision as to whether he shall go free or serve ten years in prison or pay a fine of $5,000 or possibly both.

Judge Charles White today overruled a motion by Frank P. Walsh, chief counsel for Foster, that the court direct the jury to return a verdict of acquittal.

The judge also held that he could not pass on the constitutionality of the Michigan law against syndicalism and that for the purpose of this trial he would declare it constitutional. In his motion for a directed verdict acquitting Foster, Mr. Walsh raised the objection among others that the criminal syndicalism law constitutes an abridgement of the right of free speech and of free assemblies and that the prosecution is a violation of "due process of law," because the syndicalist statute is too vague and uncertain in its provisions to form the basis of a trial for crime.

Mrs. J. W. Chaffin, who has been on an extended visit to friends and relatives at Norfolk, has returned home.

MRS. J. W. WEEKS SERIOUSLY ILL
(By The Associated Press)
BRUNSWICK, Ga., Mar. 22.—A special train for the east left here tonight with Mrs. John W. Weeks, wife of the Secretary of War, who was taken ill on board the yacht Everglades of the Georgia coast last night. Mrs. Weeks is being taken to Washington. A bulletin issued by attending physicians here early tonight said the "condition" had improved since her arrival here.
Mrs. Weeks is being accompanied by Secretary Weeks and Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Thompson, owners of the yacht Everglades. They were returning to Washington by water from Florida when the yacht was forced to put in here on account of Mrs. Weeks' illness. Mr. and Mrs. Weeks came south with the President and his party.

N. CAROLINA IS LEADING ALL IN TOBACCO GROWTH

RALEIGH, N. C., March 22.—In reply to a letter from a New York investment company, M. L. Shipman, commissioner of labor and printing, has furnished figures showing North Carolina as the greatest tobacco manufacturing state in the union, as having the largest number of cotton mills and assisting eighth in the manufacture of furniture.

The questions, and Mr. Shipman's answers are as follows:
"Is it correct that North Carolina is the greatest manufacturer of tobacco in the United States?"

"It is, according to latest available information by states, the total value of products for tobacco, chewing and smoking, and cigars and cigarettes, amounted to $258,824,000 for North Carolina, out of the total of 1,012,942,000 for the United States. North Carolina's production, therefore, amounted to little over one-fourth of that for these two branches of the tobacco industry in the United States, the state showing a larger proportion of the number of cigars and cigarettes than tobacco, chewing and smoking—products valued at $102,793,000, and Virginia, with $78,350,000 as the value of products. New Jersey is next, reporting a production of $56,718,000.
"Is it correct that there is a great number of cotton mills in North Carolina than in any other state?"

"Yes. The latest authentic information shows that North Carolina leads with 383 cotton mills. Massachusetts ranks second in number and first in the total value of products, with North Carolina a close second.
"Is it correct that North Carolina is the second state in the number of furniture factories?"

"It is not. This state is fairly prominent in the manufacture of certain types of furniture, such as chairs, dressers, etc. Recent reports to this department covering the last biennial period shows a total of 107 establishments engaged in the manufacture of furniture. The total value of products is $31,288,701, capital stock, $6,525,302, value plants, $6,364,500; yearly pay, $5,457,611.
The state of New York leads in the number of furniture factories, while Michigan ranks second."

Mr. Shipman added that North Carolina ranks eighth in furniture manufacturing.

SENATOR NICHOLSON WILL BE MOVED TO HIS HOME

(By The Associated Press)
ROCHESTER, Minn., March 21.—United States Senator Samuel D. Nicholson of Colorado, who is critically ill, will be taken to his home at Denver, in a private car tomorrow, it was announced here tonight. No operation will be performed now.
The announcement was made by Dr. Hubert Work, Secretary of the Interior, an old close friend of the Senator's. Work said Senator Nicholson's condition was grave. Dr. Work declared an operation at this time "is deemed inexpedient." The Senator is suffering from a tumor of the stomach.

NORMA TALMADGE'S Manners
By Norma Talmadge
© 1923 by MCA Service, Inc.

If the mark of a king is his crown, the mark of a gentleman is his hat, and how he handles it. The hat has a social language all its own. There is a suitable hat for every occasion and a suitable style of hat for every head. A man's method of lifting or doffing his hat may be as expressive of gentility as his bearing in a ball room.

THE MAN'S HAT
1: A man takes off his hat when riding with a woman in an elevator in a club, hotel, apartment or store; when he stops to speak to a woman on the street; when he must wait for a funeral to pass, when the national "colors" are passing; and when the national anthem is played.
2: A man merely lifts his hat as a conventional gesture to strangers, whenever he must recognize their presence.

3: A man lifts his hat when offering a woman a seat in a car, and again when saluting him—which she should invariably do.
4: Whenever a man unavoidably obtrudes on a woman, as when meeting her in a narrow passage where he must make way, he lifts his hat.
5: A man lifts his hat and bows when meeting acquaintances or friends, the graciousness of his bow and the cordiality of his smile being the measure of the impression he would create.

IT'S BAD MANNERS for a man to keep a cigar, cigar or pipe in his mouth when he lifts or doffs his hat or bows.
TOMORROW: Etiquet of paying.

RAIN STORM TURNS FLIERS BACK AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 22.—Captain Lanphier, commander of the army aviators who reached here from San Antonio, Texas, Monday, today attempted to fly over the Virgin Islands in company with Lieutenant Austin, but was turned back by a severe rain storm when within sight of St. Thomas. The aviators plan to take off tomorrow, on their return trip to the United States, retracing their course as far as Florida and flying thence to Washington, with every prospect of a speedy journey then before them.
With the exception of the Virgin Island, the army planes landed in the easternmost possession of the United States in the Atlantic for the first time.

The actual flying time for the outward trip of approximately 3,000 miles as revised was about 34 hours. The aviators expect to average from 120 to 140 miles an hour on their return.
At an executive luncheon today in honor of the Americans, Antonio R. Barcelo, president of the Senate, told the pilots.
"You are the spirit of America," said Captain Lanphier, in responding said the United States "does not know this beautiful outpost."

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

When Mr. Myers of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, stepped into the drug store and asked his druggist for the best medicine he had in his store for women's ills, it is any wonder he was handed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Mrs. L. K. Myers in writing of it says: "I had been weak, run down and had a pain in my left side for a long time, so I could not do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me in a short time so I was able to do all of my housework including washing and ironing and now I feel fine all the time." As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for benefitting 98 women out of every 100 women who take it, it will pay every suffering woman to try it.—adv.

FAIRER MEANS OF COMPETITION FOR TOBACCO

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 22.—The American Tobacco Company was cited again by the Federal Trade Commission today, "in its effort to secure fairer methods of competition in the tobacco industry by the discontinuance of alleged price fixing agreements." P. Lorillard Company, Inc. and the Tobacco Jobbers' Association of Western Pennsylvania were named as co-defendants in the complaint.

Several days ago a complaint was issued against the American Tobacco Company together with the Midwest Tobacco Jobbers' Associations and others, charging price fixing agreements.
Today's complaint alleges that the American Tobacco and the Lorillard Companies "separately in conjunction with the Tobacco Jobbers' Association of Western Pennsylvania" through agreements abided by certain specified standard prices at which tobacco products should be re-sold and that they agreed to refuse to sell to dealers who did not adhere to such prices.

IS DOUBTING THOMAS NO LONGER

"All medicines and doctors for stomach trouble proved worthless in my case. Everybody recommended something else and nothing helped, so I became a doubting Thomas as to any cure. While in St. Louis a party praised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy so highly that I bought a bottle and I am now a doubting Thomas no longer." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. I. C. McFall's Drug Store, and druggists everywhere.—adv.

LUMBER MILLS HESITATING ABOUT NEW BUSINESS

Solution of Fuel Question Offered By Roger Babson

BY ROGER W. BABSON.
(Special to The Bee.)

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., March 23.—Roger W. Babson, statistician and business authority, has some very decided views on the coal situation—and he has a solution.

"Within another week the coal famine should be over, if the weather runs according to the almanac, every one will be able to get all the coal he needs after April 1."

"But is the coal problem settled? 'Decidedly not,' says Roger W. Babson, the statistician who demands that the coal problem be solved this spring when it can be solved, and that we do not wait until next winter when it will be too late to do anything but rush around feverishly to try to get enough coal to tide us through the zero weather."

"We are a lot like the man who had a leak in his roof," says Mr. Babson. "When it wasn't raining, it didn't need fixing. When it was raining he couldn't fix it. As a result we have repeated tie-ups: in the spring, scarce talk by the coal dealers, in the summer, strikes; and in the winter, when it is too late to do anything but rush around feverishly to try to get enough coal to tide us through the zero weather."

"If it is allowed to go into effect, it will spell another shortage and more suffering next year."

"Six such serious tie-ups in the last 25 years are a plenty and it is possible that we may arrive at the solution of the problem by analyzing the cause of these several tie-ups. In studying them, I find that they are surprisingly alike. In each case miners and operators have had what they thought was a real grievance and real difference. In each case the government has attempted to deal with the problem by appointing a commission."

"In 1887 public sympathy was largely with the miners who had a just grievance. As we get down to 1922, however, we find the miners becoming quite able to take care of themselves. There is little choice between the miners and operators as to which was the aggrieved and which the aggressor. Both now have powerful fighting machines and both are parently are actuated by the same motive—to get all they can for themselves and to give as little as they can. The third party in argument, the great consuming public, has not done so very well. In every single instance on record it has taken most of the leading and has weakly appointed a commission to patch up the quarrel between the other two parties. After being mauled and bled and robbed by a half dozen operators and a few thousand miners, the hundred million consumers have begged Congress to appoint a commission, simply because the thing always had been done and it is assumed, therefore, that it must always be done.

"I personally do not know much about what went on inside the commission meetings. One can only judge by results and it is evident that little or nothing has been accomplished."

"In 1897, for instance, a compromise was made between operator and miner, on September 2. Wages were increased 20 per cent, and miners and operators agreed to meet in January 1898 and make a new contract. The strike was very successful from the miners' point of view."

"In 1902 through the mediation of President Roosevelt the strike was settled on October 23, with the understanding that questions in dispute would be submitted to a commission. A 10 per cent. increase in wages and a reduction of hours were granted to the miners."

"In 1906 the strike was finally settled through agreement between operators and miners themselves. Not through a third party."

"On April 1, 1910, 300,000 miners went out. The agreements were submitted to the miners and rejected. The strike was finally settled September 8 of that year. A slight increase was granted and certain other concessions. The miners' union paid out $674,000 in strike benefits and miners were idle from April 1 to August 8."

"A conference was called on October 16, 1919 in an effort to prevent a strike, but the operators refused to negotiate as long as the strike order was in force. The miners' contract which really did not expire until 1920, was disregarded. The President's appeal to the strikers failed. The attorney general issued an order restraining union officials from putting the strike into effect. This failed. An injunction demanded that the officers rescind the strike order, the order was rescinded but the miners went on strike November 1, just the same. On December 10th an offer from the President direct to the miners granted 14 per cent. immediate increase and question of further increase to be determined by the commission."

"The story from the public's point of view has been the same in all these cases, exorbitant prices, poor quality, suffering and no end of inconvenience."

"After studying this record, and after having shivered through a fireless winter, one may feel a little skeptical as to what our present coal commission is going to accomplish. So far it seems to be running true to form. Last September a commission was appointed by the President to investigate and find all the facts that would have a bearing on the solution of the coal problem. In a report to Congress on January 15, of this year, it took care not to commit itself to any definite recommendations. It did not say that one fundamental cause for instability in bituminous coal mining was surplus of both mines and miners."

"The other findings of the commission indicate that it is really analyzing the problem, but it looks as though it must suffer the fate of most such commissions."

"Now there are three of us in this coal problem. Both miners and operators have been loud in proclaiming their rights and in demanding that their particular pet schemes be enforced. I should like to propose a platform for the most important member in this argument—the general public."

"The operators' arguments boil down to the contents of the present method. It is apparently just as profitable to do business half of the year at twice the profit and take a vacation for the other six months as it is to work the year round at a normal profit."

"The miners' plan is ingenious and well calculated insofar as the welfare of the miner is concerned. They would have the government buy all the coal mines at a figure which they set at $4,500,000,000 and would then have the government carry on operations and sell coal to the public. The scheme involves much machinery for scientific determination of costs, price fixings, and similar other activities. Mine wages would become a political issue which would be very fine for the miners. In addition to this fact, such a plan would eliminate competition and all necessity for progress and economy in the industry. Coal, to be sure, might be sold to the public at a lower price, only to leave a huge deficit which must be made up in increased taxes. In the final accounting it probably would cost you and I just as much or more than it does at present. No government can operate a business as efficiently as a private owner. Hence, the proposition to have the people buy the coal mines is not attractive. They already have had enough of government operation in connection with the railroads, the building and operation of ships, and other enterprises in which the government took a hand during the war."

The Problem.

"What the consumer is interested in is getting coal at a fair price when he needs it. Everyone who has studied the coal problem will agree that the seat of the trouble lies in the fact that competition has been squeezed out of the industry. The reason all of these troubles arise is because the natural laws which govern other lines of business have been blocked. On the one hand they have been thwarted through the organization of labor; on the other hand by the combination of the owners. This, moreover, is the principal argument against government purchase of the coal mines, for such a plan instead of increasing competition would bar it out entirely. The real problem, therefore, is to employ government authority only so far as it is necessary to make the industry subject to economic laws—the law of supply and demand, and the law of competition."

The Public's Solution.

"How then can we put competition into the coal business? The first step must be to secure from the government a commission or board which will have the authority to act as a referee for the public in all arguments arising within the industry. It must be empowered by the federal government to enforce its rulings. As soon as their ruling is made, the industry must be divided into two parts which will be approximately equal as far as their producing capacity is concerned. Then by public decree, if you please, let the mines in one half be operated as union mines under a closed shop agreement, but let the mines in the other half be kept on an open shop basis. Then let the two groups show by their own operation which plan is the better."

"The operators claim that the more efficient mines are the open shop mines, whereas the miners claim that the most efficient plan is the closed shop and the tight union. The public does not know which is right, but it does know that when either group secures complete control it becomes inefficient, careless, and arrogant. So long as there is real and fair competition, both sides are kept on their toes. If it is really true that the open shop plan is more efficient than the closed shop, then the open shop mines will naturally get the greater part of the country's business. The same will be true if the miners can demonstrate that their plan is the better."

"An Interstate Commerce commission has helped greatly in solving our transportation problems and insuring service for the public. A similar body as 'referee' with power to enforce its rulings would do much to insure real competition and, therefore, good service in the coal industry."

Good Morning Judge!

Jim Wells' celebration of his birthday by partaking of too much mean corn liquor nearly cost him his life several days ago. He was in the morning when John Daniel, colored, was arraigned in the police court for shooting at Wells, also colored. One of the bullets came dangerously close to striking Wells, but the negro was too 'highly lit up' to realize his danger and he merely waved his overcoat pocket but did not strike the flesh. After the hearing was completed, the warrant against Daniel was dismissed.

Jim Wells and his brother, Frank, who had gone to a place and secured some moonshine. When they passed Daniel's house on their way back home, the negroes were alleged to have been making all manner of threats, threatening to shoot everybody in the neighborhood. They were momentarily detained when Jim Wells became tangled and he fell into a gulley. Daniel appeared on his porch about this time and the two men are alleged to have cursed him and threatened his life, and made gestures as if to draw a gun from his pocket. It was then that Daniel went into the house, returned with his own gun and fired twice at Jim, one of the bullets going through his overcoat pocket. This led the call to police quarters, which resulted in all three being arrested. The Wells brothers drew fines several days ago on the drunk charges.

The case of Morris Fox, driver of the Register and Bee truck, charged with speeding, was reopened this morning but decision by the court was reserved until tomorrow. Fox was summoned yesterday on a warrant sworn out by J. T. Sammons and several others testified that he was speeding on Annet's road, a fine of $21 and costs was imposed. Fox claims he was speeding, because of the fact that the governor on the motor would not permit it to speed. Sammons and Ed Denny yesterday testified that Fox was making anywhere between thirty-five and fifty miles per hour. Fox this morning requested that an officer drive it himself to sustain his denial that he was making that speed. Police Officers W. C. Talley and O. T. Cook took the machine out and gave it a test. During the test the reported to the mayor that they were unable to get more than 25 miles per hour at any time. Thirty miles is the speed limit outside the corporation limits and it was here that Sammons and Denny claimed that the truck was speeding. The reason for reserving the decision until tomorrow was because Denny, who did not witness the test this morning, stated that he "must see it done."

An automobile collision between machine driven by Julius Johnson and Ezekiel Slade, the latter colored, was aired by the court but the evidence failed to show there was any carelessness on the part of either driver and the warrants were dismissed. The case was for driving on the Yanceyville road near the city while both were going at a slow rate of speed. Neither machine was badly damaged and no personal injuries resulted.

Miss Fannie Matthews one of the oldest ladies of the town passed away at her home on Sunday morning following a short illness and was laid to rest in the Chatham cemetery Monday afternoon. Rev. H. G. McLees conducting the last sad rites. She was a daughter of late Rev. J. M. Matthews, having preceded her to the grave by almost twenty-five years. She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ford, of Chifton Forge, Va., and Mrs. J. R. Brown, of this place.

The new rectory for Emmanuel church new under way of construction will not be brick as reported in the Chatham letter of last Saturday, but will be an imposing frame structure. The contract was awarded to Hunter and Anderson, of Danville. The foundation is now being excavated and the work pushed.

W. B. Cauthorn of the Thompson Hardware left on Wednesday for his home in Essex County to rest for several days.

Miss Brantley Carter and Miss Graber attending school in Raleigh, N. C., are spending a few days at Miss Carter's home in South Chatham.

Judge J. T. Clement will on Monday hold court for Judge Southall at Amelia county.

Famous River Event To Be Rowed Saturday

BY WALTER CAMP
(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)

NEW YORK, March 22.—Cecil Rhodes won an Empire for Great Britain but he unwittingly cost England a tremendous amount of prestige in sport when he established the Rhodes Scholarships which sent scores of American college men to Oxford. In spite of their limited numbers the Americans who have won this coveted educational opportunity have taken a prominent and in some cases a dominant place in British Inter-Collegiate athletics.

Already this year, Stevenson the great Princeton hurdler and quarter miler, Huhn, another Princeton runner, Dunbar of Worcester, Brown of Washington, and Reese of Nebraska, have been selected for the Oxford track team which will compete against Cambridge. The Oxford crew which row Cambridge on the Thames Saturday will be stroked by W. P. Nelson, a New York boy and Keith Kane of New Port, will fill number four oar. Kane was a star oarsman at Harvard but Melton rowed only at Middlesex Prep school in this country.

A dependence on foreign talent, such as is shown by Oxford this year, again her ancient rival might cause much adverse comment if it had occurred between two inter-collegiate rivals in this country.

Golf enthusiasts who are flouting out the chances of the teams of amateurs which America will send to England to compete for the Walker Cup and the British amateur championship, this year, are delighted at the team selected not only because it contains four former amateur American champions but because of the varied temperaments and characteristics of those men.

Bob Gardner, Chick Evans, Davie Herron and Francis Ouimet all are stars but they differ to a marked degree in their characteristics.

Whether or not Walter Hovoor of Duluth wins the diamond skulls at Henley for the second time or not seems to depend entirely on his physical condition when the rowing classic is contested. So far as ability to get his shell through the water is concerned he is not likely to find a superior among the foreign scullers. It is expected that he will meet Paul Costello for the good challenge

My Adventures In Hollywood

BY VIRGINIA BRADFORD
(Special to The Bee.)

HOLLYWOOD, March 22.—Despite tons of literature written about it, Hollywood remains in the mind of a million American girls a glamorous place of romance, vastly different from what it is.

Coming here to break into motion pictures, I really believed that everyone living in Hollywood was somehow connected with the movies; that there was perpetual carnival and a succession of mysterious delights provided for star and satellite.

Ridiculous! Of course, but many girls back home have just such a distorted idea of Hollywood.

Instead of a magic city opening to the smile of a pretty girl, the Hollywood of motion pictures is a scattering of business plants among the homes and shops of a sprawling extension of Los Angeles.

Your "Pass" to Enter.

"You need no 'pass' to enter Hollywood except a ten-cent street car ticket from the Los Angeles railway station. The conductor may or may not know where such-and-such a studio is located. He has more important business than to play guide free in the characteristics of their play. Gardner and Herron are of the powerful hard hitting type who can go through a wet field and force their way through heavy going and win. That may be a necessary tribute on the British courses.

Evans is regarded by many as the best golfer in this country. He is certainly one of the most finished performers and he undoubtedly strikes days when he is practically unbeatable. Ouimet is a good physical condition is a dangerous man and likely to go far. He has shown more than once the remarkable golf of which he is capable and he is a veteran of international competition.

cup at Philadelphia before his departure for England and that match should give a conclusive line on America's prospects in England this year. Costello, looks in splendid shape even today and Hovoor will have to get down to hard training shortly in preparation for such an adversary.

BALTIMORE CLUB LEAVES FOR CAMP

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, March 22.—The main body of the Baltimore International League Baseball Club left tonight for their spring training camp at Winston Salem, N. C.

Manager-Owner Jack Dunn did not accompany the party, he having only yesterday buried his son, and only child, Jack Dunn, Jr., secretary and treasurer of the club, who died of pneumonia after a short illness. It is understood he does not contemplate visiting the training camp this spring.

to every movie pilgrim. Thus you grope your way to the gate of the studio lot, and there you stop.

You stop before a courteous but cold doorman, bluntly asking your business or an equally indifferent wicker girl, human barbed-wire entanglements about the persons and offices of the mighty. Impervious to beauty or guile, they stem the flood of youth battering timidly or boldly at the gates, allowing a few to trickle through at commands from the inside.

Conceit fairly oozed out through my tired feet as I tramped around trying to find a breach in the walls. I had to demonstrate that I was a "horn" actress, but where and how, I couldn't act in the streets.

Where You Start.

"Just how do you get into the movies?" I finally asked one salesman, eating humble pie—I, not the gatekeeper.

"You apply at the casting office, and register, he yawned. 'Hours from 8 to 9, and 4 to 5.'

Later I learned to know this keeping quite well, but to this day he will not let me enter without a work pass or proof of appointment.

You are not borne into the movies on a palanquin—you do literally "break in," while Hollywood continues prosaically and unaware of your presence to bake pies for street car conductors as well as comedians.

This indifference takes me straight out of your upstate, and probably is necessary to put them in the proper frame of mind to forge ahead if it doesn't turn them away.

No Pitfalls on Streets.

In another way, too, Hollywood was different. I couldn't find any of the pitfalls which I believed lined the streets for unwary girls. I saw no roistering at night. No one oiled me around the studios. Sleek men in sleek cars didn't draw to the curb and invite me to ride.

Frankly, this was rather disappointing.

Where were all the gilded temptations that beckoned so often from the pages of Hollywood tales I read?

Later I was to encounter a few, but for the moment, stripped of illusions, I found that I was just a working girl looking for a job about which I knew nothing. A mere fragment of a star from which now and then a blazing meteor is formed!

TOMORROW: I try to pry my way into filmland via a "movie school."

Gene Saraze Will Play In Britain

By LAWRENCE PERRY
(Copyright, 1923, By The Bee)

NEW YORK, March 22.—It was whispered today by a man in a position to know whereof he speaks that Gene Saraze will have no trouble about getting permission from Briar Cliff to go to England for the British open tournament. All he will have to do will be to ask for it in the proper way. At least that is the information that came to the writer today.

Saraze got off to a bad start in winter play in the South but now the results of incessant practice are beginning to appear. His appearance in England will alone in some measure for the failure of Doherty Jones to accompany the American Walker Cup team to Albion.

As for Jones he has committed himself to a great task. He thinks Harvard should have a University Golf links and he is trying to inaugurate a campaign for the laying out of a course, undismayed by the fact that this great institution has neither a swimming pool nor an adequate gymnasium. Bobby has suggested that the Harvard athletic association devote the funds accruing from football in the next two years to financing the golf idea. We have heard as yet no cheers from Fred W. Moore, Harvard's athletic treasurer. On the other hand he evidently has not dropped dead. So there may be hope.

Gilmour Dobie of Cornell is wearing a mournful look these days. As though it were not enough that several of his ablest football players are to be graduated in June and thus lost to the 1923 eleven, a study priddion athletes has fallen before the faculty scythe in the mid-year Harvest of bonheads and loafers. It is indeed that of his 1922 squad Dobie at the present time is able to count upon six or seven men at most.

CONTRACTS FROM SHANER AND "PEP" REGAN RECEIVED

Two hold-outs of last year's team came across yesterday, their signed contracts being received by Murphy. These two are Regan and Shaner, both good ball players. Regan said in a letter accompanying his contract that he would be here Wednesday; that he had been playing basketball all winter and was in excellent shape and that he was eager to get back on the diamond. Shaner expects to report Monday. Shaner gives promise of being one of the most valuable men in the league this season.

The contract of McEnroe, a new man, was also received yesterday.

MIKE M'TIGUE WILL STAY IN OWN COUNTRY

(By The Associated Press)

DUBLIN, March 22.—Mike M'Tigue, the new world's light heavyweight champion, declared today that he would not return to the United States for two months. He has made arrangements for future fights, although he is aware that efforts are being made to match him with Georges Carpentier. M'Tigue's thumb is still painful from the effects of his St. Patrick's Day contest with Patton Siki, in which he won the championship from the Kenegalese, but otherwise he is in very good physical condition.

In view of the published reports that Siki did not lose the championship to M'Tigue because the men fought at catch weights, M'Tigue said he desired that it be made known in America that at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of the fight he weighed in, in the presence of witnesses, tipping the scales at 153 pounds.

WHISKY CONFISCATED

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, March 22.—A large quantity of whisky believed by prohibition agents to have been smuggled into the United States from the Bahamas was confiscated by federal officers here today.

The liquor was shipped by rail in 115 packing cases from a South California port. It was consigned to a transfer company.

Despondent Woman Tries to Kill Self

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 23.—Despondency and illusions resulting from a nervous condition that she has had since childhood, and a general run-down condition from work, are believed to have been the causes that made Mrs. Fannie Sheppard, formerly Miss Fannie McGure, attempt suicide yesterday morning by jumping into the pond at White Oak mills.

The reason that Mrs. Sheppard is living today is that she missed by several feet the deep part of the pond and landed in water about three feet deep. Not being able to get out, as she was stuck in the mud, she called for help and was assisted from the pond by three men of the community, who took her to the house of W. A. Kiger, 61 Eighteenth street, where she was given dry clothes and taken to the Glenwood Park sanitarium.

"Dust of the Earth" Given at Y. W. C. A.

A play entitled "The Dust of the Earth" was given last evening in the Y. W. C. A. gym by the Philathea and Baraca classes of the Oak Grove Baptist church for the benefit of the Oak Grove Baptist church and the Girls' Industrial Club of the Y. W. C. A. The drama is in four acts, written by Katherine Kavanaugh, and has a plot of unusual interest. The parts were cleverly impersonated by the following persons: Asa Keese, Mrs. P. A. Farmer, Daisy Bowman, Cooper Guerrant, Cullen Henderson, Blanche Farmer, Carl Hodnett, Spurgeon Farmer, Wordy Henderson and Dorothy Lester, several of whom showed marked histrionic ability. Miss Dorothy Lester as "Nell, the Dust of the Earth," displayed decided talent as an amateur actress.

ALL THE LATEST DANCES

If she is pretty, I will be pleased, but I know that beauty is only skin deep; character and common sense appeals to me more than a pretty face and cute ways. I much prefer that she could cook than she know how to play the piano, not that I expect her to cook or do manual labor, but I am sure that good meals and a clean house go a long way toward making a happy home.

I can earn enough for both of us; I expect her to have all of the necessities and some of the luxuries. I expect her to be a partner and not an idler and a spender. I hope that she will be thrifty, so that we can accumulate a competence for old age.

When she sees a store like PIGGLY-WIGGLY selling everything on a small margin of profit, where she can really save money each month and at the same time get quantity and quality for less money than she can elsewhere, then I want her to trade with PIGGLY-WIGGLY and aid me to become one of the two wealthy old men out of each hundred.

A PUZZLE A DAY

C O C

S A W

The professor in phonetics asked his pupils to indicate by letters or other symbols that summer was late in coming. The best formula was the one shown above. Can you read the message?

Yesterday's answer:

No one can find the subject of this riddle:
All their search for it will be in vain.
Yet break it just before the riddle.
And in our very midst it will be plain.

The word represented by the above verse is "Nowhere." If it is broken just before the middle, it becomes "Now here."

TARIFF RESOLUTIONS

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, Mar. 22.—The International Chamber of Commerce Congress today adopted resolutions urging that the world governments make their tariffs operative on the date shipping leaves the exporting country instead of at the time of their arrival at the country of entry. Filing of tariffs with the secretariate of the League of Nations so that the schedules might be generally available was also recommended.

Archbishop Is Now On Trial

(By The Associated Press)
MOSCOW, March 23.—The testimony at today's session of the trial of Archbishop Zepiak of Petrograd, head of the Roman Catholic church in Russia, and sixteen priests, showed that the Soviet officials encountered sharp resistance when they attempted to requisition the valuables in the Catholic Churches of the former capital.

The churchmen are charged with opposing the decrees in separating the church and state, resistance to the requisition of church treasures and engaging in agitation for the closing of the church, which it is declared, would inconvenience the Soviet government with the Vatican and impair the terms of the treaty with Poland.

The Russian agents in their work of requisitioning valuables found, the study, clean shaven young Catholic priests far different from the bearded clergy of the Russian Orthodox Church, most of whom even assisted in the requisitioning the testimony indicated.

The young priest, Elmond, at the church of St. Casimir, Petrograd, halted the requisitioners when they sought to examine the priest, declaring that they could pass only over his head body. Kovovich, the priest of St. Catherine's Petrograd, refused to reveal the hiding places of the church treasures and called upon the congregation to defend them.

Father Yunavich at the church of the Holy Stanislaus, kept the services going from morning until night holding the congregation in the church during the time set for the requisition.

Archbishop Zepiak, wearing a red hat and red belt is the center of the group of defendants, most of whom are young. Their lawyers are stubbornly contesting the accusations made by Nikola Krylenko, president of the Supreme Revolutionary Tribunal who is acting as prosecutor.

Paving Bill Beaten
By Senate, 26 to 5

RICHMOND, Va., March 22.—The House resolution permitting cities to assess part of the cost of street construction and improvement against abutting property owners was defeated in the Senate of the Virginia General Assembly today 26 to 5. The measure was opposed by Senators Russell of Lynchburg, Montague of Portsmouth, and Wickham, the latter terming it a "home killer" instead of a "home builder."

Senator Montague said the resolution was unfair to property owners who had paid their share of paving assessments in the main sections of cities and who later moved to new addition of suburbs. Senator Wickham said the measure was the opening wedge to another designed to assess the cost or part of the cost of highway construction against abutting property owners in the rural districts.
